

Professional Development Program - Assessment During Early Childhood Years

Approaches to Assessment

aeceed

Traditional Norm referenced standardized tools

Alternative Individual focused assessment methods

Bhamini Mehta

Sharing information with parents for

aeceed

Enhancing learning at home and relationship with parents

Early identification and intervention

Providing continued learning based on child's acquired skill

Archana Jain

AECEd Mumbai conducted its second session of the Professional Development Program series on Saturday the 19th of June - on the topic of Assessment During Early Childhood Years by Ms Archana Jain and Dr Bhamini Mehta.

The facilitators spoke about different types of assessments, principles in planning the assessments, practical tips on scheduling assessments, use of technology and preparation of portfolios.

Some feedback received were:

“Very enlightening and enriching session. Learnt a lot”

“Thank you for this Knowledgeable Session.”

“It was a wonderful learning experience. Thank you.”

“A session dedicated to assessment in early years on a distance learning mode”

“The clear difference between assessment of learning and assessment for learning. The tools and the methods for assessments like checklist, rating scale, anecdotal records etc.”

“Assessment should be assessment for learning and not just assessment of learning. Assessment tools were nicely discussed too”

We are very happy to have such a positive response and feedback to this program.

Thank you to everyone who attended the program.

